

GOLF TEAMS SET FOR TITLE TEST

New Entries Prepare to Storm Qualifying Round in Patterson Cup Tourney

NEW 72-HOLE NET EVENT

By SANDY MENIBLICK
SCHEIDT has been such a buzz of interest in the coming Patterson Cup golf event as there apparently is this year. Over the tables and from around the corners of the locker rooms at nearly all the clubs the query these days is—"are you going to play at the Cockett Club?" and the answer generally is "you bet."

This event always draws one of the real big entry lists for the reason that it has so many attractions. It is one of the official events of the Golf Association of Philadelphia. The Memorial Cup was presented to the association as a personal trophy by the friends of Joseph Patterson, to be held for one year by club from which the winner comes. The winner gets a gold medal also.

It is thirty-six holes of medal play, the best low gross getting the medal and his name on the cup. This score also counts toward the Silver Cross, one of the most prized emblems awarded by the association each year.

The lowest aggregate score for the thirty-six holes in the Patterson play and in the qualifying round, the Philadelphia championship, seventy-two holes medal in all, gets the Cross.

Fast Teams
To make interest in the Patterson tourney unanimous it is the qualifying round for the interclub golf team championship of Philadelphia. This is the major league in the city these days it's a real honor for any club to win the crown.

Huntington Valley won it last year and will defend. Only four clubs can qualify, the competition being open to all clubs of the city district. A club may enter as many players as it wishes. The seven best scores of all the clubs are added together and the four best club aggregates qualify for match play later. Merion, 1920 champion, Acornimick, and Lancaster are teams which did not compete last year, and which are all contemplating entering this time. Lancaster, in particular, is to be feared, though how it will fare is a question. With Tewksbury, Green, and the two Bonadies, it should qualify.

All of this play will be held on Memorial Day, next Tuesday, May 30. The Cockett Club course is open to all contestants this week except Saturday. Francis B. Warner, secretary of the Golf Association, predicts a record entry.

Green Valley Event
For the first time in a number of years herabouts there will be an invitation 72-hole medal handicap tournament. This novel event, a departure from the usual order of invitation tournaments, will be staged at the new Green Valley Course starting a week from tomorrow, June 2-7.

It is the first "open" tournament held by Green Valley which only started play on its course a year ago. The links out there in Roxborough, a real test course, are in prime shape.

There will be prizes for each thirty-six holes and for the seventy-two holes in Classes A, B, and C. These are divided as follows: A, handicap ten and under; B, eleven to twenty; C, twenty-one and over. Club handicaps will be accepted.

Charles W. Berg, chairman of the Tournament Committee, with Max Hirsch honorary chairman. Entries should be sent to the club not later than Saturday, this week.

Save the Tees
In its May Bulletin the plan of the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club to save its tees is fully explained. The idea of this progressive club has a lot of merit, and it will doubtless be tried out by other Greens Committees which watch with sorrow the daily excavation and devastation of the restricting driving areas.

Many clubs have ladies' tees and men's tees. Things have come to a pass where both seem the ladies' tees. Whitemarsh has more or less rearranged the system by providing substitute tees, giving the players in some cases a different angle on the hole and in most cases calling for a different way of playing the hole.

They are called "selective tees." This opens up several possibilities. For instance, before a foursome starts it can be arranged that the winner of the hole shall have the privilege of selecting the teeing ground which shall be used at the following hole, and at that particular time on the baseball team. He also is the quarterback on the football team, which he will captain next year.

"Little Mike," as he is known to his fellow students at Abington, was catching in the game in which he was injured.

WILSON LEAVES HOSPITAL; BROKE LEG IN BALL GAME
Abington High Athlete Released From Suburban Hospital Today
Richard Wilson left the Abington Hospital today. Wilson, who is a brother of Mike Wilson, former Lehigh all-around athlete and last year a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates, broke his leg while sliding home in a North Penn League game last Saturday. The large bone of his leg was broken when the catcher fell on him.

Wilson attends the Abington High School, where he plays second base and right field on the baseball team. He also is the quarterback on the football team, which he will captain next year. "Little Mike," as he is known to his fellow students at Abington, was catching in the game in which he was injured.

McGraw Wants Him

ED ROUSH
Giants' manager says he will pay $150,000 for Cincinnati's suspended outfielder and Pitcher Donohue, also of the Reds

$150,000 OFFERED FOR TWO PLAYERS

McGraw Says He Will Give That Sum for Roush and Donohue, of Reds

"NIX," SAYS HERRMANN

Cincinnati, O., May 25.—"The New York Ball Club," said John McGraw before the Giants left Cincinnati, "stands ready to pay $150,000 cash for the contracts of Ed Roush and Peter Donohue. Let the Cincinnati Club get Roush reinstated and my offer goes."
"Everybody knows that Roush is the emperor of outfielders, a gardener without a peer and a terrific batsman. Donohue is the best young pitcher of the age—a right-handed star such as we see only once in a baseball generation, a youngster who, like Mathewson, Rusie and Johnson, is a big leaguer from the day he starts."
"Give me Roush and Donohue and I'll guarantee not only the year's pennant, but pennants in the future as long as they can play the game."
"All I can say about Roush," said Gary Herrmann "is that he must be reinstated by Judge Landis before we can even talk business with any other club. As to Peter Donohue the Cincinnati Club not only will not sell him, but will not trade him for any pitcher the National League can show. We will not give anything for the entire staff of any other club and that closes the discussion, as far as he is concerned."

KAHANAMOKU WON'T MEET WEISMULLER

Recent illness Prevents Duke From Entering Swim Competition
Honolulu, T. H., May 25.—(By A. P.)—Duke Kahanamoku, for a dozen years world's sprint swimming champion, and Johnny Weismuller, youthful marvel of the Illinois Athletic Club, will not clash in the tank meet to be held here May 26 and 27.

Kahanamoku's friends had hoped he would be sufficiently recovered from a recent attack of influenza to defend his titles against the natural assaults of his younger competitor, but the entries closed today without Duke's name appearing in the list. On the contrary, it was announced that Kahanamoku will leave for the mainland May 31.

Weismuller is entered in the fifty-yard senior national championship swim and the 220 open, to be run off Friday, May 26, and in the 100-yard open and 100-yard backstroke open the following day.

Sanction was granted by the A. A. U. yesterday for a special tank swimming meet here early in June, in which Weismuller will attempt to establish new world records for 400 meters, 440 yards, 500 meters and 500 yards. The girls' relay team of the Outrigger Club will try for a record in the 200-yard relay.

This Radio Receiver a Flash
New York, May 25.—Theodore R. McElroy, of Boston, will be awarded a silver cup tonight at the radio show here as the winner of the eighth receiving contest of the world. He took down fifty-six words a minute, defeating E. G. Scattergood and J. S. Smith, both of New York. McElroy broke his own previous record of fifty-one and one-half words a minute.

Men! Here's the Most Revolutionary Move Ever Made By Any Retailer

In the very heart of the Season and just before the big Memorial Day rush, I am offering $25, $30, $35 and $40 Spring Suits at $20!

Always a leader, I see the advantage of just such a daring move. I expect to duplicate my phenomenal $20 sale of last year. I cleared out my great stock in a few days, and with ready cash made purchases that enabled me to undersell every big clothing merchant in Philadelphia. I have continued to undersell my competitors because I established the following policies that made, and kept, thousands of customers who have been buying ALL of their clothes from me:

- FIRST—To sell only good clothing that I can personally guarantee.
- SECOND—To sell only genuine all-wool garments that I personally test in every detail.
- THIRD—To sell only clothing made by the most reliable manufacturers in the country.
- FOURTH—To sell only clothing which for style and workmanship cannot be surpassed.
- FIFTH—To sell our stock at all times at positively the lowest possible prices.

I have kept faith, and keeping the faith has required four big Koshland stores to accommodate the growing army of satisfied purchasers. Therefore, "let's go" on the history-repeating sale:
